Crashed Against A Mountain Side In Raging Storm

Tragic Story of The Disastrous Crash of The Air Liner San Francisco, With Loss of Eight Lives.

Grant, N. M., Sept. 9 (AP).—Funeral preparations today marked the final chapters in a story of eight lives snuffed out in the crash of a giant air liner against a mountainside. A pilot battled blindly for a haven of safety against a raging storm.

With five passengers, one a woman, and a crew of three dead, the cause of the crash of the City of San Francisco, Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., plane on Mount Taylor, 20 miles from here, may never be known.

A searching party of fifty men, including an Associated Press correspondent, was led by Sheriff Bob Roberts up precipitous sides of Mount Taylor, which thrusts its jagged peak nearly 12,000 feet into the sky that was once the lane of the "Mistress of the Air."

In a little canyon, heavily wooded with giant pine trees, the party of fifty suddenly came upon the scene where charred wreckage marked the final resting place of the huge ship. Over a space of 150 yards the plane was strewn in bits, the largest piece a wing section about ten feet long. Three motors that roared their challenge to the elements when the City of San Francisco left Albuquerque, N. M., last Tuesday morning at 10:22 o'clock, were shattered and strung along a patch cut by the plane as its journey was suddenly and disastrously ended.

What was once the luxurious cabin of the plane lay before the searchers a mass of molten and twisted metal, and within were the pitifully broken bodies of the passengers and crew—burned beyond recognition.

On an arm of one of the pilots, a wrist watch loomed as a single telling remnant of the wreckage. His hands were stopped at 11:01. Sheriff Roberts examined a watch of one of the passengers. It showed 11:04. It was grim, but certain, proof the plane was winging its way westward on time on its correct course to the next stop when tragedy intervened.

The huge sky liner skidded close to the tree tops and her undercarriage slashed off the top of one huge pine. A few feet further on the left wing motor chiseled off a fifty-foot section of a pine as if the tree had been a reed. From then on for a distance of more than 100 yards, the ship carved a veritable runway in the heavily wooded canyon. As she carried her fatal course through the pines, she caught fire and left in her wake a perfectly marked trail of charred trees.

Finally she came to earth and as the forward motor crashed into the lava-studded bed of the canyon, the force was so terrific that the nine cylinders of the big motor were literally torn from their supports and hurled back into the fuselage. Only the scattered bits of metal and the one large piece remained of the wings—and on that piece was identification number 9649, the plane's mark.

The searchers lifted the twisted and fire-blinded cabin roof, like the cover of a candy box, from all that remained of the happy, carefree party of eight that sailed away to conquer space and time in the airliner.

Grim faced men of the old west went about their task. A coroner's jury was drawn with Justice of the Peace J. F. McBride acting as coroner.

District Attorney Fred Nichols represented the state. The jury examined the wreckage and the bodies, and solemnly and briefly reported—the victims came to their death, "as the result of an airplane accident." No opinion was given as to the cause of the crash.

Then the slow, treacherous trek down the mountainside began, with deep canyons and thick underbrush making the trip difficult. Eight bodies on stretchers were borne seven miles by the party, then were taken by ambulance to Grant.

Three bodies identified as those of Mrs. Corina Raymond of Glendale, Cal., the only woman aboard; A. B. McCaffey of Albuquerque, N. M., and Harris Livermore of Boston, were made ready for removal to Albuquerque. McCaffey's body was identified by a bit of melted silver—the remnant of an Indian bracelet he always wore.

Bodies of the other victims were to be sent to Gallup, N. M., today. They were: William Henry Beers of New York city, and M. M. Campbell of Cincinnati, both passengers, and J. B. Stowe, and E. A. Dettel, pilots, and C. F. Canfield, courier, members of the crew.

Blames Woman for Educational Ills

Wellesley, Mass., Sept. 9 (AP).—Professor Robert E. Rogers of "Bo A Snob" fame, believes America's educational ills are attributable largely to women teachers.

The man who a few months ago provoked a storm of controversy when he advised the graduating class of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to marry the boss's daughter rather than his histologist, told a conference of business leaders here yesterday "Our boys and girls have not been taught to think."

"They are interested in applications, not principle," he declared. "Every shade of criticism they sweep into one heap and dismiss ignorantly as radical. Intellectually they are children beside the boys and girls of the same age abroad."

"Whose fault is it? For a half century the largest part of our young people have been trained exclusively by women teachers. The faults I have been speaking of are the faults of women teachers—preoccupation with method, interest in details, disinclination for mathematical and political and philosophical thinking, an inclination to insist on abstract beliefs to be accepted docilely rather than the free give and take of criticism. Fifty years of this has produced a people incompetent to think politically and philosophically. Our American thinking is feminine thinking."

Professor Rogers said, however, that business men must bear their share of the indictment. "They pay out thousands of millions on educational fads and fancies, but all the complex equipment of a college for city high schools, magnificent plants, imperial athletic machinery, and won't pay salaries large enough to attract strong and competent men teachers," he said. "Just as in churches, they won't pay salaries large enough to attract strong and competent men whose preaching young people will respect."

Earlier in his remarks, Professor Rogers contrasted the religious training of the young by the Protestant churches, on the one hand, and the Catholic and Jewish on the other. The Protestant Sunday School he found so inferior that religion makes little or no dent in the youngsters. He said Catholic and Hebrew boys and girls seemed for better trained in matters of religion and social ethics than the Protestant boy and girl.

CLAIM ARABS ARE SELLING POISONED FRUIT TO JEWS

Jerusalem, Sept. 9 (AP).—Instances of the alleged sale of poisoned fruit to Jews by Arabs since the Arab-Jewish riots have been reported to the police here, and one Arab merchant has been arrested in Jaffa on this charge.

The grapes he sold to a Jewish dealer at Tel Aviv which are alleged to have made a Jewish woman purchaser ill, have been sent to the Jaffa health department for examination.

Troops have confiscated stores of rifles from Bedouin tribesmen near Jericho. Twenty-two arrests have been made at Tulikarem, seven at Nablus, sixty at Bessan and several at Jaffa. All these places are important Arab centers.

ADJOURNMENT AND BAIL IN HUGHES CASE

Thomas Hughes, arrested on Saturday about noon at the Hotel Eichler, Railroad avenue, by enforcement officers working out of the office in this city charged with possession of a quantity of alleged alcoholic beverages was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly this morning. Through his Attorney John M. Cashin, the charges made and an adjournment taken until Saturday, September 21. Bail in $500 was continued.

PROMINENT CANTOR TO BE AT AHAVATH ISRAEL

Cantor Aaron Pitkowsky of Brooklyn, whose pleasing baritone voice has made him sought after by various synagogues, will be at the Congregation Ahavath Israel synagogue during the Jewish holy days, which begin on Saturday, October 5, Jewish New Year. The public may attend the services by making arrangements with Harry Neiburn of 75 Broadway, who is president of the congregation. Mr. Neiburn also is selling tickets to members of Ahavath Israel.

September 17 Primary Day

Tuesday, September 17, will be Primary Day throughout the state of New York. As there is no opposition announced against any of the designated candidates of the leading political parties for nomination for city or county offices the vote most likely will be very light.

Unusual Heat in Britain

London, Sept. 9 (AP).—The unusual heat which has scorched the British Isles for the last few days continued today unabated. A temperature of 83 degrees Fahrenheit was recorded over a large part of England Sunday, driving thousands from town to country and seashore.

Thicker and Even in Vancouver.

Deputy Sheriff Kills Schoolboy

Ashland, Ala., Sept. 9 (AP).—Deputy Sheriff Cecil Guthrie was held today on a first degree murder charge for the death of Clarence Bailey, 15.

Ashland High School football star, who was shot to death as Guthrie sought to arrest him on liquor charges.

Bailey, the son of a prominent Clay county planter, received a bullet wound through the head during what officers said was his flight through a pasture about five miles from the Bailey farm, near here.

Guthrie, committed to jail shortly after the shooting, told investigating authorities the fatal shot was accidental. He said he fired two shots in the air as he pursued Bailey and that he stumbled, discharging his pistol the third time. It was this last shot, he said, which struck the fleeing youth.

The Deputy Sheriff and W. H. Alexander, chief of police of Ashland, were patrolling the road in the vicinity where the shooting occurred when their attention was directed to shouts coming from the pasture.

Going to investigate, the officers said, they saw several boys, who fled as they approached. Guthrie told Sheriff J. H. Allen he saw the Bailey youth stoop and pick up a gallon jug. It was, then he fired, he said.

The jug, when recovered, contained about half a gallon of whisky, the officers said.

Young Bailey played last year on the freshman football team and was to have made his first appearance on the varsity team in the first game of the 1929 season. He was considered one of the outstanding prep school guards of the state.

INVESTIGATION OF GRAIN OPERATIONS ASKED BY N.Y.

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP).—Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, today accused Duluth, Minneapolis and Chicago grain operatives of attempting to force the wheat growers to dump their commodity upon the market by keeping storage facilities loaded to their maximum. He asked an investigation by the federal farm board.

The Senator said an inquiry of his own indicated that the elevators of the northwest were filled to capacity and that the farmer had no alternative but to sell his product at whatever the current price might be, rather than hold it for more favorable terms.

He asserted that he believed the elevators had been filled through a deliberate program of the Duluth and Chicago Boards of Trade and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce. Prepared to go before the President Hoover with his complaint, if necessary, after he has presented it to the farm board, Senator Nye declared immediate action is not forthcoming. He will present a resolution calling for a Senate investigation "of this general terminal tieup."

LOSS PLACED AT 82 IN SINKING OF STEAMER KURU

Helsingfors, Finland, Sept. 9 (AP).—Police today estimated that 82 persons, most of them school children, were drowned Saturday at Tammerfors. Between 20 and 30 were saved.

It seemed that the ship with about 100 passengers and a crew of 12 aboard left the harbor for a short trip in the midst of a storm. Outside the harbor a huge wave swamped it. The passengers, most of them below the deck, rushed to one side of the vessel, capsizing it. There were sufficient life belts but the passengers had no knowledge of the use of them.

Rescue steamers reaching the scene said they found the Kuru floating bottom up with persons clinging to it. The waves swept many off into the water.

TWO SENTENCED TO JAIL IN POLICE COURT TODAY

Two defendants were arraigned this morning before Judge Shufeldt in police court.

Harvey Jones, charged with petty larceny on complaint of the manager of the Hotel Elster, was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Harry Burke arrested by Officer Bowser Sunday evening, charged with annoying passengers who arrived on the north bound West Shore train, was given five days in jail.

Postal Switchboard Affre

Early Saturday evening the fire department responded to a still alarm of fire sent in from the Postal Telegraph office at 234 Fair street, and extinguished the blaze at the switchboard, which was temporarily out of use. ## Fatal Collision Between Milton And Highland

Two Killed and Twelve Injured When Coast-to-Coast Bus Side-Swipes Private Car.

A crash between a bus and private automobile Saturday evening cost the lives of two persons and injured 12 more, seven of them seriously. The accident occurred on the road between Highland and Milton at 6:25 p. m.

Mrs. Mary Dean deLaet and her nine-year-old son, Jan Jr., were the victims of the collision, both of them being killed. Her husband, John deLaet, 792 East 19th street, Brooklyn, was one of those most seriously injured. He suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. William Dougherty of Brooklyn, the other occupant of the deLaet machine, a brother-in-law of deLaet, suffered severe cuts and shock. He was taken to St. Francis hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Others injured were: Joseph Sottasanti, Bergeline avenue, West New York, N. J., possible fracture of the skull and 10-inch cut across forehead and down to left jaw, at Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Charles Sottasanti, brother of Joseph, severe cuts and bruises at Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Thomas Anderson, Jamaica, L. I., several ribs broken and other internal injuries, at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

F. C. Bassier, Syracuse, laceration on face and forehead, treated by physicians at scene of collision.

Mrs. F. C. Bassier, Syracuse, lacerations and bruises, treated at scene of collision.

Walter Alexander, Howard Beach, N. Y., cuts on head, treated by physicians at Marlborough.

Mrs. Louis Schultz, New York city, broken collar bone, under care of physicians at Marlborough.

Adam Hoff, Baltimore, Md., bruised about ankles, received medical treatment.

M. Louise Barnard, Schenectady, cut on head, treated at scene of collision.

Mrs. Mae Nelson, Astoria, L. I., shock and possible internal injuries, treated at Marlborough.

The deLaets with Mr. Dougherty were on their way in a Hudson sedan to Kingston to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deane, 255 Washington avenue. At a point about half way between Highland and Milton their car was hit by a Coast-to-Coast bus running between Montreal and New York. The bus was driven by Henry F. Duffy of 264 Hamilton street, Albany.

The pavement was slippery, due to rain earlier in the afternoon, and the bus coming down hill and rounding a slight turn side-swiped the Hudson with terrific impact, according to those who saw the crash. Mr. deLaet, who was driving the sedan, tried to get as far as possible to the right side of the road, and his car was on the edge of a shoulder when the accident occurred.

So hard was the deLaet machine hit, that it was backed up about 45 feet. The bus, equipped with air brakes, could not come to a stop until it had traveled up hill almost 300 feet, it is said. There were 28 passengers in the bus, most of them receiving some form of injury or shock.

The sedan was completely demolished. Mr. deLaet was driven from his position as driver to the back seat, the steering wheel still gripped in his hands, and Mrs. Dougherty, the other occupant of the front seat, was evidently driven against the rear of the seat and then frontward against the dash.

Mrs. deLaet, who was in the rear seat of the car with her son, received the full force of the impact. Both were so severely injured that neither recovered consciousness.

The rear and part of one side of the bus was caved in, but it remained on the pavement. Most of the injured in the bus were sitting on the demolished side. The impact placed the Hudson against a bank bordering the road.

Response to calls for physicians in Highland, Marlborough and Milton, brought aid at once. Detective John Harrington and Officer Joseph Heaney of the New York police force, who were following the deLaet machine on the way to the police camp near Tannersville, brought Mrs. deLaet to Kingston, but she died before she could be placed upon the operating table. The autopsy, performed by Drs. Slaughter, Myer and Van Gasbeek, under the direction of Coroner Conner, revealed that the woman had a fractured skull, fractured pelvis, several fractured ribs and breaks in both arms. She also received several cuts.

The boy, Jan deLaet, was rushed to Poughkeepsie by John Doyle and Frank Van Valkenburg, both of Kingston, but he died before assistance could be rendered. A special trip with the car containing the boy was made by the Highland-Poughkeepsie ferry. A check of the youth's injuries revealed a fractured skull and crushed chest.

Other cars brought the worst injured to hospitals. The two Sottasanti brothers were taken to Benedictine Hospital at Kingston. Joseph was the worst hurt of the two, having suffered a 10-inch cut on the forehead over both eyes, which extended on down to the left jaw.

Mr. deLaet and Mr. Dougherty were taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie. Mr. deLaet's condition is said to be critical. He received a fractured skull and several other injuries.

New Bus Line to East Kingston

Beginning Thursday, September 12, a 25-passenger Mack bus of the Ferraro Line will be run between this city and East Kingston, renewing a communication which was broken on September 4, when the common council revoked the bus privilege of Franklin A. Tigar because of deviations from agreements he made at the time of applying for consent to operate. The common council's action took place after the Downtown Business Men's Association protested the sort of service Tigar was giving.

According to Harry Kaplan, president and Henry Lehner, secretary, of the Downtown Business Men's Association the Ferraro Line promises service that will suit all. According to the present schedule two trips will be made every day. If conditions warrant it the number of trips will be increased and the line extended beyond East Kingston to Goldrick's Landing. Road conditions will have a bearing on the extension of the line. It is said that people in Goldrick's landing will welcome the bus service.

The present schedule made by the bus line and the business men is as follows:

Leaves East Kingston—7 a. m. and 1:10 p. m.
Leaves central terminal, Kingston—11:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m.
Leaves downtown terminal, Kingston—11:45 a. m. and 5:45 p. m.

The Downtown Business Men's Association feels that it has accomplished something of real consequence in helping to establish the new bus line. The act is only one listed in a program of improvements planned for the fall season. Other important things, which concern those who patronize the Downtown business men, will be taken up at a meeting of the organization this Thursday night.

FATALITY SHOT BY POLICE WHILE PLAYING ROBBERS

Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 9 (AP).—Abrind Rubberg, 32, who was shot while playing the part of a robber in a simulated holdup staged as a theatrical press-agent stunt, died last night.

W. N. Jones, a policeman, fired the fatal shot, not knowing that the robbery was a real one.

Rubberg was a theatre employee, concocted the historic effects after another theatre had started a make-believe fire to attract patrons. While a throng milled about the entrance of the rival theatre, Rubberg ran around a corner. In pursuit came a man in an automobile firing blank cartridges and shouting "shoot him," "shoot him."

Jones, taking up the chase, fired a shot which penetrated Rubberg's spine.

L. L. Hackett, night Chief of Police, asserted he had apprised officers of the stunt. Jones denied this, declaring he thought the robbery was genuine.

KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES IN FOG

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP).—Kenneth Lamphier, 22, of Hornell, commercial pilot at the commercial airport here, was killed today when his plane crashed on a farm near Spencerport, ten miles from the city.

He became lost in a fog while flying around the airport. Persons near the scene of the crash heard him circling around and finally saw the plane head out of the mist toward a clear space. A few hundred feet in the air the engine stopped and the plane nose-dived. He was conscious when dragged from the wreckage but lived only twenty minutes.

Victim of Hit and Run Driver

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP).—Charles Corbett, 59, died today of a fractured skull, the victim of a hit and run driver who escaped Mr. Corbett was found unconscious in the road Sunday morning.

Mr. Dougherty escaped serious injury, but received bruises and is suffering from shock.

Thomas Anderson of Jamaica, L. I., was the only other injured person taken to the hospital. He was sent to St. Luke's at Newburgh, where it was found that he sustained several broken ribs and possible internal injuries. His advanced age, about 70 years, may incapacitate him for some time in recovering, according to physicians.

Mrs. Schultz was treated at Marlborough for a broken collar bone. She returned to New York yesterday morning. Several of the other passengers went on their way after being treated for cuts and bruises.

Another bus was sent from Highland, it picked up the uninjured persons and continued on its route. Most of the passengers refused to give their names.

Duffy, the driver of the bus was not hurt. He was arrested by Sergeant Lockhart of the State Troopers on a charge of second degree assault. Bail of $500 was furnished by Frank DuBois, Highland representative of the bus company, pending the inquest set for Friday before Justice of the Peace Leat of Highland.

Sheriff Rice, Under-Sheriff Doyle and Deputy Constable, with Coroner Conner went to the scene of the accident as soon as they received word. They secured pictures of the cars, which may be used at the inquest.

The bodies of Mrs. deLaet and her son were placed in charge of Deane and Deane, undertakers at Catskill, who are related to the deLaets.

Foreclosure Begun Against K. C. R. R. Co.

Default in Payment of Interest Due January 1 on $544,000 of Bonds Brings About Commencement of Suit to Foreclose Mortgage on Property of Local Trolley Company.

A summons and complaint in an action to foreclose a mortgage given to secure payment of bonds issued by the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company at the time of the consolidation of the old Kingston City line and the Colonial line in 1902 was filed in the office of the county clerk at noon Saturday by William D. Brinaker, Jr., attorney for the Bankers Trust Company of New York, plaintiffs.

The action is brought by the Bankers Trust Company of New York, plaintiffs, as trustees for benefit of the holders of bonds secured by a mortgage or deed of trust executed by the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company, against the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company, Kingston Transportation Corporation and Isador Paradies and Andrew Mathela, defendants. The action is to foreclose the mortgage dated October 9, 1901.

At the time of the consolidation of the two trolley lines in this city which had been operated as independent lines by the Colonial City Traction Company and the Kingston City Railroad Company authority was given the Kingston Consolidated Railroad company on its organization to issue bonds in the sum of $700,000. The bonds were issued as 700 bonds with a par value of $1,000 each, they were to bear interest at 5 per cent and were to run for a period of fifty years. These gold bonds became due in 1951. The Manhattan Trust Company was the mortgagee or deed of trust, by the original trustee of the bonds. This mortgage upon the trolley line and equipment was given to secure payment of the semi-annual interest and to secure the ultimate payment of the bonds. By assignment the Bankers Trust Company succeeded the Manhattan Trust Company as trustee of the bonds.

In the issuing of bonds and the securing of the payment of interest and principal the mortgage was given and in that mortgage was a provision that in the event the semi-annual interest due on coupons remained unpaid for six months a foreclosure action might be commenced. In addition to that the principal of all unpaid bonds issued and outstanding forthwith becomes due. It was also provided that in the event of failure to pay coupons as presented and when due the mortgage given to secure payment of the interest and bonds would become due and the property should be offered for sale to the highest bidder.

On January 1, 1902, the company issued $694,000 of bonds of which at present there are still due $544,000. On January 1, 1929, coupons were presented for payment and payment was refused. Six months as required under the mortgage agreement has elapsed and foreclosure action has been commenced. Under the contract which provided that in the event payment of interest was refused all of the bonds become due the present action was commenced. There is due under contract $544,000 in bonds and interest unpaid since July, 1928.

When the Kingston City Transportation Corporation was organized to operate buses at the time of the abandonment of the Colonial division of the railroad and $18,999 interest was sold by the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company to the Kingston Transportation Corporation for acquiring buses. The Transportation Corporation deposited its stock with the plaintiff Trust Company as security for payment of a loan. This loan has not been paid and consequently all of the rolling stock of the Kingston Transportation Corporation is covered and affected by the mortgage held by the Bankers Trust Company.

Relief is asked in that a receiver be appointed for both companies and that the assets of the companies be sold at public auction in foreclosure action to the highest bidder as provided in the agreement made at the time of the consolidation of the two trolley lines, and the taking over of the mortgage of the Manhattan Trust Company. It is asked that the receiver, referee, if necessary, and other costs of the proceedings are paid together with taxes, assessments, etc., that the balance be applied toward the payment of the outstanding bonds and interest.

A block of $12,000 of bonds purchased by the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company and retired to their treasury does not participate under the mortgage foreclosure.

The action as regards Paradies and Mathela runs only in so far as they are concerned as tenants in property owned by the trolley lines.

Many Matters In Special Term Of Supreme Court

Saturday's regular special term held before Judge McNamee was the first regular special term of the supreme court held since the summer vacation period and there were a number of matters presented. Two sessions of the court were held, an adjournment being taken at 1 o'clock for lunch and the session resumed in the afternoon.

A motion to dismiss the complaint in an action O. G. Orr & Company, Inc., against Firemen Insurance Corp., defendant, was denied. Ten years ago the corporation was discontinued and such notice was filed. The directors of the corporation now seek to bring an action against the insurance company in the name of the discontinued corporation. The insurance company claims they have no such power but must bring the action individually as directors instead of in the name of the corporation. On the grounds that the directors have power to conclude the business of the corporation after the notice of discontinuance has been filed, the motion was denied. Bigman, Engler, Jones and Houston for defendants and R. H. Elder for plaintiffs.

An order to show cause why Silbert Terwilliger of Eureka should not be punished for contempt was returnable and the matter argued. Grace Terwilliger, plaintiff, was granted an allowance of $5 a week pending trial of a separation action in 1928 provided the case was not tried within 30 days beginning in November. The case has not yet been tried and no alimony has been paid. Both parties had previously been married and have children by their former marriages. At present Terwilliger resides alone near Eureka and his counsel contends he is ill health and unable to pay.

In November, 1928, the court denied an application for alimony pending trial, provided the case was disposed of in 30 days. In the event the case was not tried in 30 days the sum was fixed at $5 a week. Counsel fees in the sum of $100 were granted at that time and paid. Within the thirty day period the case was moved for trial before Judge Foster, but as he had represented one of the parties prior to becoming supreme court judge, he was disqualified. The case was taken to Newburgh before Judge Moushauer, who sent it back to this district and again at Albany the judge was disqualified. Ellisworth Baker, who appeared for counsel, for plaintiff contended that the $5 a week should and could be paid. Lefty Lounsbury, who appeared for Mr. Terwilliger, held that the defendant was unable on account of ill health to pay the sum demanded and further argued that he should not be held in contempt as every effort had been made to have the case disposed of within the 30 day period. The defendant claimed he had a justifiable defense and wanted to have his day in court and was now and always had been willing to go to trial at the earliest opportunity. Judge McNamee offered to try the case immediately, but Mr. Baker, who appears for plaintiff, could not go to trial for some time as he expected to be engaged in court in Sullivan county. Decision reserved.

In an action brought by the Universal Road Machinery Company against Robert Nardone and Ernest Ciferri, the plaintiff was granted possession and title to a stone crushing plant which had been sold by plaintiffs to defendants and which owing to alleged breach of contract was seized in replevin action by the sheriff. A severance of action was also granted. F. W. Brooks for plaintiff; Russell, Jacob and Brevoort for defendants.

In an action or damages brought by Nardone & Ciferri, Inc., against the Universal Road Machinery Company, growing out of the stone crusher transaction, Mr. Brooks asked that the names of Robert Nardone and Ernest Ciferri be substituted for the corporation name. He alleged that the original contract had been signed by them as individuals. There had been a breach of contract and the machine had been taken by the sheriff. The plaintiffs to the damage action claim damages now, alleging that the crusher did not work. Mr. Brooks asked that the individuals be substituted for the corporation as the complainants as the contract of sale had been signed by them and not the corporation.

Judge McNamee denied the request on the grounds that the defendant could not select the party to bring an action. He stated that no one could say who should sue.

14 Local Firms In Safety Drive

Fourteen Kingston firms have enrolled in the fifth annual state-wide accident prevention campaign which will be conducted through September, October and November under the sponsorship of Associated Industries of New York State, Inc., the state organization of manufacturers.

A total of 1,429 firms with an employment of 257,566 workers in the manual trades will compete for numerous trophies and other awards offered by Associated Industries for the best safety records made during this period.

Firms in Kingston and vicinity which will take part are:

C. A. Baltz.
J. S. Fuller, Inc.
The Terry Bros. Co.
U. S. Lacey Curialm Mills.
G. W. Van Slyke & Horton.
Mother's Laundry.
Chas. Ramsey Corp.
Apollo Magneto Co.
Katterman & Mitchell Co.
John F. Herbert & Sons.
H. W. Pala's Sons.
Brigham Bros.
W. E. Joyce Co.
F. Jacobson & Sons.

Enrollments include practically every manufacturing operation in the industrial life of the state, firms being classified in groups according to their size and the nature of their hazards. Each group will be treated as a separate contest, a mounted trophy being awarded to the winning firm in each group and certificates of merit to others making exceptional records.

A consistent reduction in accident severity has marked these annual drives conducted by Associated Industries, despite an ever increasing number of firms taking part with a consequent increase in exposure. The general advisory committee, composed of representatives of the association and cooperating organizations, report that the greatest saving shown has been in lives, the toll of accidental deaths having been cut from thirteen to seven at the conclusion of the 1928 drive. While the 1928 campaign showed a slight increase in the number of minor accidents, there was a gratifying decrease in those of a major nature, the committee states. This was shown by the decrease in severity which is based on the amount of time lost as compared with the time worked.

Shifting Sands Tied Down By New Desert Highways

A new highway flanked by an old board road (above) represents California's new methods of construction to combat drifting dunes. Sudden rains which once washed out long stretches are guarded against by channels spanned by bridges (below).

By OSCAR LEIDING
(AP Feature Service Writer.)
Sacramento, Cal. (P)—The shifting sands of the desert, which battered the motorist's transcontinental invasion of California, have been conquered.

Broad highways, free of the sandy clouds which once swirled and drifted over the roads or whipped below to undermine them, now enter the state through desert regions over four routes.

Engineers have solved the problem of "tying down the desert". Study revealed that only dunes below 30 feet in height moved with rapidity, and new roads have been built up to the level of the 30-foot moving drifts.

To keep the sand hills from whipping out from under the new roads, slopes are well oiled. To prevent washing out under conditions of concentrated rainfall, channels were dug to carry off the floods and bridges built to span the breaches.

There is little rainfall in the desert and for months a merciless

DEPT. OF WATER SUPPLY CLAMBAKE BIG SUCCESS.

West Shokan, Sept. 9.—The Department of Water Supply clam bake sun beats down on the vast, arid stretches. But what little rain there is comes all at once and storms are often of such exceptional intensity that the whole country flows with water.

Pushing an improved highway through the shifting sand hills was a project conceived by E. Q. Sullivan, district engineer of the division of highways, and the district he administers contains the principal desert roads of the state.

The old plank road which once pushed for six miles over undulating hills still stands, a reminder of the days when the continuous services of a crew of men and 15 head of mules were needed to keep it open.

Even then, during heavy wind storms, it was closed at night and occasionally in the day time. Highway construction in desert regions is costly, although dependent on the locality and character of the country. Sections paved in the Imperial valley cost approximately $49,000 a mile to grade, construct culverts, and surface with a 20-foot pavement.

On Saturday afternoon was a big success and many numbered with the great and near great rubbed elbows at the bountifully laden tables. The proceedings were considerably dampened by the sudden deluge which came down just as all were nicely seated, ready to enjoy the sumptuous repast, which had been so carefully prepared by Lester B. Davis and Oscar Dudley. Although tables and shirt sleeves dripped with water, food disappeared rapidly, washed down by an abundant supply of beverages and the shower was quite forgotten.

WIFE HAS FIRST CLAIM JUDGE McNAMÉE HOLDS

Applying the common sense rule that if a man can't support two women at the same time his first duty is to support his wife, Judge McNamée on Saturday denied an application made at special terms to have alimony set by the court at $50 a month reduced to $25. The application was made by Bernard J. Culliton who appeared for F. Gardiner Clough of Woodstock. The application was opposed by Lloyd W. Powell, who represented Mrs. Elizabeth Clough.

In asking that the court reduce the amount of alimony from $50 a month to $25, counsel argued that Mr. Clough was unable to pay such a large sum. He said his client was unable on account of disability suffered during the war to get steady employment and he was compelled to live on the money received from writing for local papers and from income derived from other publications and such income as he might make from a publication issued at Woodstock. Mr. Clough is and has been paying $50 per month to his wife under a court order. In addition to that Mr. Culliton said she was receiving $20 from the government and $30 a month as rent from a property in Woodstock which Clough had deeded to her and which petitioner claimed was worth $50,000.

Mr. Powell, who appeared for Mrs. Clough, stated that he believed the income of petitioner was much larger than counsel had stated and that at the present time Mr. Clough was residing with another woman at Woodstock and he informed the court that if the petitioner was able to support another woman and raise another family he was unable to see why $50 a month to his divorced wife was not a reasonable amount. The property which Mrs. Clough has in Woodstock, Mr. Powell said, was built with money which she had saved and the lot had been donated. There was a $1,500 mortgage on the property and instead of being worth $5,000 he placed the valuation at $2,000. Mrs. Clough was working during the summer at "The Nook" in Woodstock and was residing with her widowed mother and supporting a nine year old child. The Woodstock publication, he informed the judge, was a semi-monthly and the income last year had been about $100 net for each issue and this year the publication was bigger and the profits should be larger than last year. He also stated that the income derived from Clough's writings in newspapers were much larger than the petitioner would admit.

Replying to Mr. Powell in regard to Clough's supporting another woman Mr. Culliton said it had not been shown that Mr. Clough was doing anything of the sort. The woman referred to, he said, had been working until the past summer and her former husband was providing the rent for the house at Woodstock.

Judge McNamée stated that his view of the case was that there was some duty reposing in petitioner to provide for his family and if he could provide for another woman he certainly could provide $50 a month alimony for his wife as directed by the court. His first duty was to her and motion of petitioner was denied. Counsel stated that the $50 per month as directed by the court had been paid to date.

Do you take an interest in the fashions of 1929?

WITH which we make bold to remind The Men there are fashions in radios, razors, storage batteries and fountain pens.

Most women appreciate the authenticity of the fashion news—in regard to silhouettes, coming frills, passing fancies, and the colorful details of the mode—to be found daily in the advertisements. . . . Fashions these days are not confined to clothes. Automobiles, interior decorations, table service, vacations, even breakfasts are more satisfying, if, to use the word of the twenties, they are SMART.

Advertisements are continually chronicling the fashions that are smartest. Advertisements keep you informed of the mode in merchandise of all kinds. Advertisements full of information about the new ideas that make American life what it is today.

If you are interested in better living, you are bound to find the advertisements worth while.

Charge Offer of $25,000 Bribe

Los Angeles, Sept. 9 (AP).—Two young Hollywood women were in jail today in default of $25,000 bail each, charged with suggesting to a state's witness that $25,000 might be given him if he would testify against the state in the forthcoming criminal assault trial of Alexander Panagiotis, millionaire theatre magnate.

The two, Nancy Lee, 25-year-old sculptress, and her half-sister, Janice Hill, 19-year-old stenographer, were accused by District Attorney Bureau Pitts of making the offer in a note to the witness, whose identity was withheld.

Miss Lee and Miss Hill were arrested yesterday in a rooming house in which Pitts said he was convinced they had been "planted" a week ago by persons seeking to intimidate prosecution witnesses in the Panagiotis case.

The note, Pitts said, was turned over to him by a man living at the rooming house. He and the landlady of the house were identified as state's witnesses in the case of Panagiotis, who is to go on trial September 23 on charges brought by Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer. The note, Pitts said, had been slipped under the man's door, and suggested "There might be $25,000 in it for you if you will testify that the Pringle girl" inflicted upon herself bruises which she has declared were made by the 54-year-old theatre magnate.

CENTRAL REGISTRATION CLOSES TOMORROW

Mark Sampson, clerk of the county board of elections, announces that central registration, which has been in progress since June 1, will, for the present year, come to a close tomorrow, September 10. While the period on the whole was lengthened from that of last year, it has, however, been somewhat shortened on the close. Central registration as previously announced is primarily to enable those voters wherein there is personal registration, and who will be absent from their respective counties during all the days of local registration, to register in advance.

That the amendment should be of particular interest to all voters whose business or calling requires their being without their county during the period of elections, is without doubt, and particularly should interest the salesmen, students, railroad and boatmen, who, prior to the amendment had little opportunity of registering their vote. This year application for absentee ballots may also be made at the time of registering. It is apparent, as Mr. Sampson stated, that many whose cases the legislature had sought to relieve, have so far at least, for the present year failed to avail themselves of their opportunity to participate in the election. One day still remains for absentees to register, and the central registration board will be in session all day Tuesday at the office of the Board of Elections, 74 John street, where those who are eligible and so desire will be registered by the board.

SPECIAL POLICEMAN IS BEATEN TO DEATH

New York, Sept. 9 (AP).—John Ruppert, 45, special policeman employed in the Plattentacher Volkss Park, Long Island, was beaten to death last night by two men he had ordered from the park. The policeman previously had been struck on the head by the men when he told them to leave the park because they were creating a disturbance.

Soldiers Home From Pine Camp

Members of the First Battalion, 155th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, are back on their jobs today after having received two weeks of excellent training and physical benefits at Pine Camp. The Guardsmen feel much repaid for the time spent at camp, where their work was sprinkled with so much fun that the time passed like a day.

The Kingston men arrived here Sunday morning some time after 5 o'clock and marched to the armory. They were served a light luncheon and after placing equipment in the drill shed were dismissed. It was a happy bunch that left the armory to receive a hearty welcome at their homes and show the folks their healthy complexions received at Pine Camp.

Sleepers were used to convey the soldiers to this city, enabling them to get a good night's rest on their way from Pine Camp. The horses of the First Battalion came in on the same train. They were quartered in palace cars, specially chartered by Major Hiltbrand who preferred not to have the First Battalion horses travel in box cars like the others. The Kingston horses, under the supervision of Sergeant John Roosa, were the best looking animals to leave Pine Camp after the eight weeks or so of hard work. This shows that Sergeant Roosa and his two assistants, Sergeants Jake Post and Francis "Chubby" Joyce, know their business.

TRAIN ON CHINESE EASTERN RAILWAY BLOWN UP.

Shanghai, Sept. 9 (AP).—A Harbin dispatch, timed early this afternoon and received here tonight, said that a passenger train on the Chinese Eastern Railway was blown up on Saturday, the tracks having been mined with high explosives. The train was bound from Pogradichnaya to Harbin.

According to the report two persons were killed and three injured. The locomotive was blown off the track, the baggage car destroyed and the first and second class cars telescoped.

Japanese reports to Shanghai from Manchuria had rumors that Russian artillery was bombarding Pogradichnaya, while airplanes were dropping bombs. The village itself was said to be burning.

SIDE OF KITCHEN WAS OPEN BUT THERE IS NO WARFARE

Reports that trouble had arisen over the construction of the Montgomery-Ward building between the contractors and the Von Berg restaurant, 286 Wall street, were denied this morning by William Von Berg, owner of the restaurant.

In enlarging the kitchen at the rear of the restaurant, an addition was constructed against the building at the rear of the lot. When this building was razed to make way for the new Montgomery-Ward structure an opening was left on one side of the kitchen.

Mr. Von Berg said this morning that the opening had been boarded up, and that the matter had been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

RAIN HELPS NEW YORK FOREST FIRE SITUATION

Albany, Sept. 9 (AP).—Showers throughout most of New York state today had relieved, though not entirely eliminated, the forest fire peril. Seventeen fires reported to the State Conservation Department on Saturday were reported extinguished today.

In addition to dampening the surface of the soil in the forests, the rains had the effect of keeping campers and week-end vacationists out of the woods, thus lessening the fire hazard.

There were only two new blazes on the official records today. Both of these were in the Adirondacks section, but were quickly extinguished, and neither of them burned over more than an acre of woodland.

Pistol Battle With Run-Runners.

Detroit, Sept. 9 (AP).—Run runners and coast guardsmen met in the Huron River today and engaged in a pistol battle, leaving the government forces in possession of two boats loaded with 550 cases of liquor. No casualties were reported. The shots were exchanged as the run runners cut loose the liquor boats and escaped in their speedboats.

Loss in Kuru Sinking Now 100.

Helsingfors, Finland, Sept. 9 (AP).—Latest figures of the loss of life in the Kuru steamship disaster Saturday raises the number of dead to about 100. Thirty-two bodies have been recovered. Only about twenty were saved when the steamer went down outside the harbor of Tampere. The ship was loaded mostly with school children.

Marshall's Condition Worse.

Many Matters In Supreme Court

them. If the party bringing the action was not the proper one to sue that would be taken care of by the court at the time of the trial of the action. The judge said there was no power in any court which can make a man sue you.

Application for an order of replevin was granted in an action brought by Van Kleef Motor & Garage against Albert L. Blau and Frank Sipperly. Frank W. Brooks appeared for plaintiff.

Decision was also reserved in an application for summary judgment in an action brought by the Uster Finance Corporation against Herman Schroeeder, Harry Elmendorf and wife of Poughkeepsie and William P. Glass of this city. The action grows out of the sale of a Laramie truck in 1925. P. W. Brooks appeared for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for Mr. Schroeeder while Mr. Glass was represented by Cleon B. Murray.

Elmendorf was the purchaser of a truck and Schroeeder and Glass signed the note which was given under the conditional sales contract. This note was given the Uster Finance Corporation and when Elmendorf failed to meet payments the Finance Corporation sought payment from Schroeeder and Glass. The truck was retaken and is now stored in Poughkeepsie. Plaintiff seeks to recover from the endorsers of the note, while they claim they are not responsible. They allege the truck was sold originally to someone in the mountains who failed to pay and the truck was retaken by the finance corporation. Schroeeder was asked to try and get a purchaser for the truck and located Elmendorf. Schroeeder alleges that the truck was the property of the finance corporation and he sold it for them and as an accommodation endorser without receiving any value went on the note. Mr. Glass also alleges that at the time he went on the note he was told by the president of the corporation that he would not be held responsible for the amount of the note, but that another endorser was needed.

It is also alleged that when the truck was retaken by Schroeeder it was taken for the Uster Finance Corporation and that since there has been no resale the endorsers are as a matter of law relieved. Application for dissolution of the marriage of Lillian Covey and Philip Sherman Covey was granted on application of A. J. Cook. A similar application was granted in the matter of Jennie Bebbington against Herbert Bebbington. A. J. Cook for plaintiff.

Testimony was taken in an action for separation brought by Thomas Hughes against his wife. They were married in 1929 at Kingston and have two children, both of whom are now with the mother. He seeks custody of the children. He alleged that she would leave home and be away for some time, that she would not care for the house and he was compelled to get his own meals when he returned from work. She left him several months ago and has not returned. Francis T. Murray for plaintiff.

An order of discontinuance without costs was signed in an action, Travelers' Insurance Company and Joseph H. Paisley, Jr., against William Jacob.

Order of discontinuance without costs signed in action Charles Reed against Cornell Steamboat Company. In an action for divorce brought by Lillian S. Miller of Highland against Raymond J. Miller, order signed for service of summons and complaint by publication.

Elks Clubbake Largely Attended.

The annual outdoor clambake under the auspices of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., at Cuneo Lake, Katrine park on Sunday was largely attended. It was said by those who attended to have been a culinary success from hot roast beef sandwiches and opened little neck clams before the lake through the haze itself. Elks were present from Saugerties, Hudson and Catskill.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 9.—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets). The wholesale potato market opened today in a firm position. Supplies were liberal. Long Island Green Mountains U. S. No. 1, per 150-pounds brought $5.40 to $5.70. Maines brought $4.70 to $4.50.

The onion market was very dull without change in prices. State onions sold from $2.00-2.25 per 100-pound sack.

White cabbage was very scarce but prices were the same as at the close of last week, $4.00-4.50 per ton.

Celery opened steady. Receipts were heavy but prices showed no change from last week. State celery in the rough, per two-thirds crate, brought $1.50-2.00. Bunched celery in bunches of five sold at 75 cents; in bunches of four 65 cents; in bunches of three 50 cents.

Lettuce continued sluggish. Receipts were heavy, considerable stock arriving in poor condition. Prices ranged from 10 to 75 cents per crate of 24 heads.

Supplies of apples were rather light. The market was dull. Fall Pippins U. S. No. 1, 2 1/2 inches, per bushel basket, $2.00-2.25. Greenings $2.00-2.75; wealthies $1.75-2.25.

Some of the upstate peaches showed effects of the heat. Supplies were moderate and the market ruled weaker. Elbertas were $1.50-2.75, with poor stock at $1.00-1.50 per carrier of six four-quart baskets $2.00-3.00.

Plants That Glow

Luminous plants have been a source of strange legends in India and Afghanistan. There is a mountain called Sufed Koll in Afghanistan on which the natives believe that gold and silver exist. In springtime the slopes are covered with bushes which at night, from a distance, seem to be on fire, yet when you are close to them there is no sign of flame.

The natives of Simla say that at night the mountains are illuminated by some magical herb, and this is believed to be a species of dictamnus, which grows plentifully there.

Shocked

At an Uplifters club luncheon some one happened to remark that polo had come to us from France and not from England via India. The informant declared that mention of it had been made by several noted French writers. Evidently in the hope of verifying her statement she turned to a young lady who at that moment joined the party and asked:

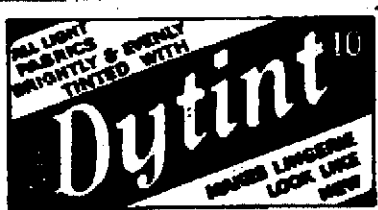

"Are you familiar with Victor Hugo?"
"I am never familiar with any man," replied the newcomer with dignity.—Los Angeles Times.

Much Lead Reclaimed

It begins to appear almost as if industry can use its lead and have it at the same time. Reclamation of waste lead, through the recovery of old lead pipe, battery plates, lead lining of acid vats and other such sources, has increased year by year, until, during 1927, according to bureau of mines figures, the total weight of the recovered metal, which can be reprocessed and used as new, was 41 per cent of the production of new metal for the year, which seems to be eliminating waste with a vengeance.

Princess Line Is in Season's Mode

Raised Waistline, Molded Silhouette Gain in Fashion Favor.

Women who had looked forward to a return of the more rounded silhouette—as a time when they would at last have an advantage over the women of slender proportions—have found less reason for rejoicing than they expected. Because as it happens, observes a fashion writer in the Boston Herald, the new type of molded silhouette demands slender contours as well as a curve or two. In any group of representative well-dressed women you will find that those who are slender are wearing the more closely molded gowns and the raised waistline, while those that are not realize that straight lines and longer bodice effects are much more favorable to their type.

Of all fashion tendencies the one that is spoken of with most confidence is that of the raised waistline, and the more molded silhouette. The dresses shown in Paris have longer skirts—but at the same time there is a reaction on the part of some women against the very long evening dress. The uneven hemline with a skirt that hangs down in the back or at one side has certainly not gained any ground among street or day-time dresses.

There are dresses of a decided princess outline—with bodice well fitted from shoulder to a low hipline. Sometimes the molded outline extends well down to the knees.

A charming French dress shows a full, circular skirt with the fullness starting gradually from just below the waistline to a hemline five or six inches below the knees. Over this is worn a bodice made with rounded neckline and a peplum rounded upward at either side, like a little jacket. There are three ribbon-like bands of the material, one circling the normal waistline, the other passing around the bust, and one between. Each is finished with a bow precisely in the middle of the front.

The evening silhouette that is smart in Paris is described as molding the figure almost to the knees, and there breaking out into flares or bouffes or drapery.

A type of street dress which, according to reports from Paris, has gained favor much more rapidly on that side of the Atlantic consists of a rather close-fitting, hip-length tunic worn with a wide belt placed ever so slightly below the normal waistline. The effect is that of the Russian blouse.

Sports Duds Important
Part of Vacation Wear
In planning the vacation wardrobe, the smart woman invariably finds sports clothes her most difficult problem—perhaps because she demands more of them. Sports togs must be sturdy, washable, sunfast and smart in a casual, unstudied manner. These are exacting requirements and they are met in various ways.

Washable silks, as well as cottons, flannels, etc., are used for sportswear, and spun silk, which includes the shantung weaves, silk pique, striped and plain broadcloth, crepes, etc., are much liked.

Floures Enhance Many of This Season's Frocks
Floures are a feature of this season's dresses. For evening the subtle dresses frequently are trimmed with two volumes or floures which are flared and give a trim effect at the back of the skirt, leaving the front short. On the daytime dresses the straight line is kept almost to the knee where the voluminous again are employed to give a flare effect. Flared volumes are used on waists and gathered volumes on the lighter fabrics.

Decorative Cardigan
The bureau of mines says that there is no substance which can be used at home in order to deodorize gasoline. This is done on a large scale with sulphuric acid and later washing with an alkali. The resulting compound is stored through fuller's earth.

He couldn't make friends until he found out why—"B.O."

GIRLS admired George—at a distance. But when he came close—they quickly lost all interest.

What was the matter? George couldn't guess. But luckily, someone put him wise—"B.O." Body Odor! Today, George is popular everywhere. Read his story below.

"I'm always pretty active, naturally I perspire. In summer especially, what with heat and exercise, the sweat just drips off me."

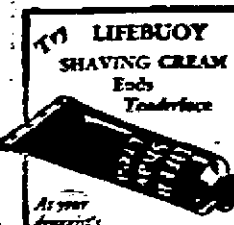

"Yet I never dreamed I was guilty of 'B.O.' Thousands are fooled like this, I've learned, because we become insensitive to ever-present odors. But everyone perspires as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily.

"Now, I play safe—and I'm strong for Lifebuoy. Man, there is nothing else can make me feel so clean. Its antiseptic lather purifies pores. No chance for 'B.O.'"

"Lifebuoy's a great skin soap, too. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent, that vanishes as you rinse, just tells you Lifebuoy purifies."

A Popular and Comfortable Costume for a Small Girl.

6564. Percale in a blue and red pattern on a white ground, was used for this pretty dress with bloomers. The collar is of white pique. Pongee, or gingham are also attractive for this style. Linen, printed lawn and other cotton prints are nice. The dress or smock (as it is sometimes called) slips over the head. It is finished with a neat round collar, and with sleeves that may be in wrist length, finished with a band cuff, or in short length, cool and comfortable, as pictured in the large view. The bloomers are in regulation style, and are finished with leg bands and waist bands.

The Pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 3, 4, and 5 years. To make this style for a 4-year size with long sleeves, will require 2 1/2 yards of material 22 inches wide. With short sleeves 2 1/2 yards will be required. To face collar, band cuffs and leg bands with contrasting material 32 inches wide will require 3/4 yard cut crosswise.

Court of Dusty Feet

What is a Pie-powder court? It seems that as long ago as the Norman conquest, says E. S. Marten, in Harper's Magazine, and even earlier, trading was done considerably in England, as also in Normandy, in fairs that were licensed and lasted a week or more. Of course there were disputes between sellers and buyers, and to settle them there were instituted courts of prompt and final decision, which were called Pled Poudreux courts; that is, courts of the dusty feet, a name which English tongues inevitably transmuted into pie-powder. Wasn't that a pretty turn of language?

Bread Ideal Food

Many people confuse calories with vitamins. The calorie is not a food stuff, it is merely a measure of heat production. Vitamins are real food-balancing substances and help to put the body in a position where it can ward off disease. Bread has no surplus as a combination of calories and vitamins.

Question of Law Puzzles Thayer

Dr. W. N. Thayer, superintendent of the Napanoch Institution for Mental Delinquents, has asked the Supreme court to determine the question whether he has the authority to recommend for parole an inmate who has been committed to the institution from Matteawan Hospital for the criminal insane, or whether that inmate must be returned to the county where he was sent to Matteawan, for trial. The situation is an unusual one and faced Dr. Thayer for the first time.

Martin Nichols was indicted in Nassau county for burglary, third degree, and after examination was found to be insane. He was sent to Matteawan to the State Hospital for the criminal insane and after serving some time there was pronounced recovered and transferred to the Napanoch institution as a feeble minded person. Now Nichols is seeking release under a habeas corpus proceeding and the superintendent is faced with the question of whether he has a right as a matter of law to recommend him for parole or whether under the law the man should not be returned to the county where the indictment was found and stand trial. Under the law a criminal insane person on recovery from insanity is returned to the charging tribunal and there tried on the original charge. By the injection of the Napanoch term in the procedure this provision of the law may be changed and in order to properly dispose of the matter Dr. Thayer came into court and asked the court's decision. Louis B. Shay appeared for the attorney general's office.

Judge McNamee adjourned the matter to special term at Hudson September 21 and asked the attorney general to submit any authorities which he might care to. The prisoner will not be required to appear at that time.

Nothing Shocking in Jap's Change of Attire

In the West we have a gentleman's agreement that disrobing should be confined to the bedroom and bathroom, or at any rate to some place behind closed doors. Not so in Japan! One hot day in a train traveling from Kobe to Kyoto I witnessed an incident that showed the Japanese can adopt a really common-sense attitude to clothes, writes Harold Butcher in Cassell's Magazine.

It was in a third-class carriage. A few seats ahead of me was a Japanese passenger who was beginning to feel the heat. His silk shirt was wet and clammy. Something must be done about it! One could read his mind.

He had his remedy. He stood up and removed his shirt. Then he found that his undershirt was also soaked. He removed that and dried his naked torso. From his suitcase he produced a clean undershirt and a clean, cool shirt, which he proceeded to don with perfect unconcern and irreproachable modesty. As far as I could judge he changed every stitch of clothing with never a quiver, and finished triumphantly a re clothed, revived, rejuvenated human being. In this hot train in Japan the whole affair seemed the most natural and sensible thing to do in the circumstances.

President's Hope For School in Mountains May Take Education to a Forgotten People

President Hoover's contacts in his mountain camp have revealed to the nation the illiteracy of a folk forgotten by the world. A mud-plastered schoolhouse serves the region. Photographs show a typical mountain mother, and children returning from berrying.

By OSCAR LEIDING
(Feature Service Writer)
Madison, Va. (P)—A barefoot urchin trudged over rocky trails to give the President of the United States a "possum"—and opened the nation's eyes to the need of availing the mountaineers of the three R's. Uneducated as he was unkempt, the boy's simple overture to the chief executive was an entering wedge that revealed a plight of illiteracy that has been masked from the country by impassable trails and the purple haze of the Blue Ridge mountains.

The urchin, Ray Burraker, will find his gesture of friendliness answered by the establishment of a school at the headwaters of the Rapidan river, with funds secured by a committee headed by President Hoover.

But Ray and his unschooled chums are only a few of the vast number who have grown up blind in a world of light. In the quiet hollows of the craggy mountains that stretch over many states, a self-reliant folk has marked time, while the world has marched on in progress, and illiteracy has bound generations to stolid existence.

Forgotten by a world they have forgotten, their chance to learn must come from their county and state, and from the cooperation the nation will offer. Virginia will have to settle its own problem of 11.2 per cent illiterates and North Carolina its problem of 13.1 per cent of illiterates.

Virginia has appealed to the United States bureau of education for aid in establishing schools and now, with eyes of the nation focused on the problem, efforts will be made to extend adult and child education.

The mountaineers, many of them descendants of pure Anglo-Saxon stock, live in crude, mud-plastered cabins in abject poverty, unaware of the world that swirls below them. They have given as much to the world as they have gotten—nothing. Money is an oddity and its value is little understood. Their meager purchases are limited almost only to tobacco, which even little children chew. The stock has degenerated for generations and, since grandfather and father received no education, there is little interest in educating the children of today.

The problem, as portrayed by L. R. Alderman of the bureau of education, is not only one of educating children but of educating adults and one that can only be solved through the public schools. One county in North Carolina, Buncome, through the efforts of Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, has shown how 4,000 adults could receive the rudiments of education within six years.

In daytime, the children go to school; in the evening the older people from 20 to 80 years, learn to read and write and explore the wonder-world they never knew.

Reticent and self-reliant people, who considered that book knowledge was not for them, have astonished themselves with the ease with which they could learn. They are blazing a trail which, educators believe, may wipe illiteracy from the mountains.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Sept. 8.—The weather during the week-end was a decided change for the better, and although no flood conditions are being reported, the landscape is responding wonderfully to the refreshing showers.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 16, a local milk route will be started by Mr. Coddington of Mombacous, who has purchased two new Chevrolet milk trucks from the Ashokan Garage. The intended route will begin at Pataunkunk, running through Samsonville to High Point Springs, thence over the mountain road to the Jordan farm, across to the boulevard and north to Dwyer's Corners, where farmers at this end of the route will have an opportunity to deliver their milk, which will be picked up by the truck about 8 o'clock each morning. This is an opportunity which farmers in this community have long awaited and well deserves their cooperation towards making the venture a paying proposition to all concerned. The milk is delivered to the Kysery Creamery and the trucking charge of 35 cents per hundred pounds of milk will be deducted from the monthly milk checks.

Among our annual summer visitors are the kindly Professor and Mrs. Barsh of Jersey City, who for a number of seasons past have spent their vacation at Maple Dell Farm. Both are of a kindly and generous nature, making friends readily in their quiet and unassuming manner. They have endeared to themselves a host of friends, both residents and fellow visitors. Mr. Barsh is a piano teacher and is adjudged by critics one of America's pre-eminent professors of music. His father was president of the Vienna Conservatory of Music. A keen student of nature and lover of the great out of doors, the professor's chief diversion is fishing and the unfailing regularity in which he returns with a well-filled creel is little short of uncanny.

Mrs. and Mrs. Case J. Gwinn of Woodridge, N. J., returned home on Sunday after a delightful vacation spent at the Burgher House. Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn were entertained Saturday evening as dinner guests at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. H. Chambers of Kingston. Professor Condon took up his duties on Monday as principal at the Haines Falls school, closed last week on account of the depleted supply of water.

Mrs. Gibbons and her two charming daughters returned to their Long Island home on Sunday, after a two months' stay at Maple Dell Farm. With the passing of the summer season the popular week-end dances at Cottage Hall have been discontinued. These dances Saturday nights have proven a great attraction. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Weldner of the Hickory Hill Poultry Farm are after a strenuous season enjoying a well-earned vacation. While absent the extensive plant is under the able management of Orrie Ellsworth.

Ernie Comstock and Allie Terwiller of Summerville are continuing the excavating for a well at Michael Dwyer's. After blasting through the solid rock to a depth of 18 feet at the latest report no water had yet been struck. Raymond Miller, the Brodhead carpenter, was employed last week by the Jordan brothers. Several local Odd Fellows attended the lodge meeting on Saturday night at Tongore.

Despite the threatening attitude of the weather on Sunday afternoon the church service was well attended.

Metal Alloy Harder Than Steel.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 9 (AP)—Discovery of a metal alloy that is harder than steel was announced today by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. The metal, called "konei" was compounded by Dr. Erwin F. Lowry, of the company's research department. While it is red hot, a test hammer "bounces off" the new metal, although it would crush steel at the same temperature, the announcement said. It is a combination of cobalt, nickel and ferrotitanium and is being used as a substitute for platinum in radio tubes.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 9 (AP).—The stock market ran into a secondary reaction today after several unsuccessful attempts had been made to rally the general list by bringing forward new leaders. In the absence of any adverse news developments, the decline was regarded as a further correction of a top-heavy speculative position. Trading was fairly heavy, with selling pressure particularly acute against several of the high-grade railroad, steel and public utility shares.
Call money renewed at 8 per cent as against an opening rate of 9 and a closing rate of 8 on Friday. While the prompt and heavy subscription of the new Treasury issue was regarded as a favorable omen, Wall Street apparently is still disturbed over the prospect of a mid-month credit pinch and the danger that a heavy withdrawal of foreign funds from New York might cause serious credit complications.
The prospect of a bitter fight over the new tariff bill and renewed agitation for legislation to curb brokers' borrowings in Congress also has had a tendency to discourage large speculative operations.
There were wide fluctuations in several of the high-priced specialties. Simmons company advanced 1 1/2 points to 175, broke to 162, rallied to 172 and was down below 170 again in the early afternoon. Case Threshing rallied 22 points and broke 10. American Water Works converted an early gain of 3 points into a loss of 4.
Sharp losses in some of the dividend paying rails proved disappointing to small traders, who have been looking for a big rally mark as a result of the steady increase in freight traffic and the excellent character of recent earnings statements. Atchafalaya, New York Central, Union Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern all sold down 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 points, weakness of the last named probably being caused by the announcement of new equipment financing and rumors of a new convertible bond issue.

United States steel common was hammered down 6 1/2 points to 24 1/2, bringing it more than 20 points below the recent high. Bethlehem sold down nearly 5 points. Vanadium on the other hand, showed consistent strength, selling at least 6 points above last week's final quotations.

THREE SUNDAY ACCIDENTS AT HURLEY ELBOW CURVE
Three minor accidents occurred at Hurley Sunday night, the worst happening at midnight in which a machine carrying three men was crushed against a tree at the elbow curve. The wet pavement was blamed for all the crashes.
Thomas Stiso and William Crane, both of Corona, L. I., and a third man whose name was not given, were the occupants of the car, which was badly damaged in the accident. Mr. Stiso and Mr. Crane received lacerations about the face and arms. They were taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment, and continued on their way afterwards. The third man was unhurt.

The other two accidents were the result of taking the curve at a speed sufficient to slur the cars off the pavement. The names of the drivers of the machines or occupants were not given. None of them was hurt.
SIX KILLED, MANY INJURED WHEN BUS STRIKES TRAILER.
Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 9 (AP).—Six persons were killed and nearly a score injured yesterday when a motorbus, speeding to make up an hour lost time, sideswiped a heavy truck trailer five miles east of here and was ripped open.
Witnesses said the bus was going 50 miles an hour and that the truck, proceeding in the opposite direction, was traveling more than half that fast.
The bus was owned by the Indian Trails Stage Lines and was headed for Chicago from Flint, Mich. Its left side was torn completely away and the passengers were damped, hurt and dying, on the pavement.
Of those killed three were of one family.
Frank Moore, driver of the bus, and John Shane, his relief driver, were not hurt and were held by Berrien county authorities.

Much Revival Campaign.
Evangelist T. LeRoy Muir of Roxbury and corps of workers opened a four week revival of religion in Catskill on Sunday night. The services are held in a large tent seating hundreds. The music is under the direction of Prof. T. Francis Smith of Wilkes-Barre, Penna. Services are held every night but Saturday at 8 o'clock and on Sundays at 2:30 and 8 p. m.

POULTRY

CHICKEN HOUSES NEED IMPROVING

Lack of Light or Ventilation Discourages Hens.

Many old poultry houses are lacking in light or ventilation or both. Where ample light is already provided through windows but ventilation is inadequate, it is often best to remove the upper sash of the windows. If there are not enough windows, additional openings should be cut in the upper part of the front wall.
Under Kansas conditions it is desirable to make these openings equal to about one-tenth of the floor space. Half screen over these openings will serve to keep the poultry in and rodents out," suggests Walter G. Ward, extension architect, Kansas State Agricultural college, in giving hints on improving the old poultry house.
"Frames covered with a light weight of muslin may be provided in the front openings to protect the flock during very cold or stormy weather."
Many old chicken houses are unnecessarily high and are very cold during the winter months, continues the building specialist. He says a simple remedy is to construct a straw ceiling or loft. The straw is preferably carried on inch mesh poultry netting. For supports 2x4 inch cross ties placed every 4 feet will be practical. About 1 foot of loose straw is placed on the netting and small openings in each end above the straw serve to keep it dry. The straw is left in the poultry house throughout the year.

Find Sour Milk Good Ingredient of Protein

Sour skim milk in unlimited quantities gives a higher total and average egg production, higher profit over feed cost, and produced eggs at a lower feed cost than semi-solid buttermilk, dried buttermilk, meat scrap or sour skim milk whey. The dried buttermilk and semi-solid buttermilk pens gave a smaller percentage of large eggs and a larger percentage of small eggs than did the sour skim milk pen. Some skim milk whey is inferior to the other feeds in every way. The dried buttermilk pen gives the highest hatchability.

A comparison of semi-solid and dried buttermilk shows the semi-solid pen gives higher per cent production and eggs per pullet. The dried pen, however, gives slightly higher yearly average profit over feed cost per pullet, cheaper feed cost per dozen eggs and higher hatchability.
The results of experiments indicate that a vegetable protein supplement to sour skim milk, such as pease meal, alfalfa meal, and beanmeal, is productive and profitable. In production and profit over feed cost, the supplements ranked: Pease meal, alfalfa meal, bean meal, then no supplement.

Poultry Hints

Shut up or sell male birds.
Cleanliness is the best preventive of poultry diseases.
Brooder houses should be placed where the drainage is good.
Store the eggs in a cool cellar if possible. Market them twice a week.
Feed poultry yellow corn, cod-liver oil, milk and leafy feed for vitamins.

Young chicks should be encouraged to roost at an early age. The chicks will become accustomed to roosting in a low roost which slopes from the floor back of the house to the rear of the house is provided.
What kind of eggs are going to market this summer? Demand for them may be increased by proper care. Be sure the hens have plenty of clean, dry nests well filled with litter—one nest for every five or six hens.
Round out the corners of the brooder house to keep the chicks from crowding.
Artificial breeding of chicks involves the problems of providing a suitable shelter for them on ground which is free from worm parasite infestation.

Be sure the old hens and young stock have plenty of ventilation during the hot summer months. Open the rear ventilator in the house and take out the windows.
Small eggs produce small chicks. The size of next year's eggs depends first upon breeding, second upon feeding.
Encourage chickens to roost while they are still young to prevent crowding brooder houses and crowding and to aid ventilation.

Burley is considered a very good food for poultry. It is richer in protein and carbohydrates than corn and has less crude fiber. In some sections it is made a substitute for corn.

Sullivan-Van Duzer.
Moderns, Sept. 9.—A very pretty home wedding was solemnized on Thursday, September 5, at high noon at the Van Duzer home near Modena, when Miss Dorothy Margaret Van Duzer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Duzer, became the bride of Edward Sullivan of New York city. The bride was beautifully gowned in blue. She was attended by Miss Elizabeth Coddington of Wallkill, N. Y. The groom's attendant was Ralph Van Duzer, brother of the bride. Rev. Wilfred Van Duzer, of the Modena Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. Only the immediate family and a few friends witnessed the ceremony, after which a delicious collation was served. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left immediately on their honeymoon amid the well wishes for a happy and prosperous future.

Hasbrouck-McCarthy.
Helen Cecilia McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McCarthy, and Allan Grant Hasbrouck, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hasbrouck, residents of Highland, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. M. J. Tighe, Carl Jay Hasbrouck, brother of the groom, best man and Mildred Gertrude McCarthy attended her sister as maid of honor. Dorothy Davis was flower girl and Richard McCarthy ring bearer. The bride was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin, lace and beads, trimmed with lilies of the valley. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was attired in a gown of pink georgette trimmed with petals of pansy gerberes. She carried gladioli and carnations. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home, which was prettily decorated with cut flowers, hydrangeas and ferns. The couple will enjoy a motor tour through New York state and upon their return will reside in Highland. The bride received many useful gifts. The bride graduated from Highland High School and New Paltz Normal. Mr. Hasbrouck also graduated from Highland High School.

My former troubles have all disappeared and I can not only enjoy my meals without having any pain or distress afterward, but my kidneys and nerves have also been strengthened so that I have no trouble in that way. I, for one, will always be glad to recommend Nu-Erb to anyone suffering from similar troubles."

ST. PETER'S SODALITY OUTING A GREAT SUCCESS.

There were 56 in attendance at the grand annual outing of the sodalists held Sunday at Camp Wahkonda, Mt. Marion. A most enjoyable day was spent by all, though the inclement weather and occasional showers prevented the partaking in some of the sports planned. All are heartily grateful to the Rev. Father Bracken for his kindness in opening the camp to the picknickers, for it was a great accommodation in carrying out the events. Besides other sports there were a number of games and races for which valuable prizes were awarded to the winners, as follows: Target game: A. M. Reis, K. R. Schaezel, M. Connelly, A. Mayer, M. Woerner. Golf hole game: M. Zeeh, M. Woerner, H. Delamater. Ball throw: K. Delamater, L. Mellert, D. Mellert, L. Heltzmann. Peanut race: K. Delamater, K. R. Schaezel, A. Kraus, V. Davis, M. Zeeh. Shot put: M. D. and L. Mellert, T. Sass. Bean bag in basket: K. Delamater, A. Kraus, D. Clark, H. Delamater, R. McTague.

The regular monthly meeting of the sodality for September was postponed because of the annual outing and will take place next Monday, September 16, at the school hall at 7:45 p. m. The presence of all the members is desired as many important matters are to be discussed. The attendance at this year's Sodality Union convention must be planned. As a special feature of the social hour after the meeting there will be amateur movies and slides. The officers, consultants and members of the executive committee will have a preliminary meeting on Friday of this week at 145 Foxhall avenue.

Determining Turtle's Age
There is no sure way in which to determine the age of a hard-shell turtle. In most instances the plates are examined closely with a microscope and on these plates there can be noticed scale expansion. This scale expands as the turtle grows, leaving a ring of growth. These rings are counted the same as those of a tree.

THE DAREDEVIL—SLIP ME Y' AUTOGRAPH, WILL YER?

Mother's Cook Book

If the law were to edict that man and wife should never be together for more than six months in the year, it would be broken every day, and men and women would stand hunger and stripes to come together for two months in twice. If love of home were a crime, a family life would arise more touching than anything Queen Victoria ever dreamed.

SEASONABLE FOODS

COOL fruits, frozen ices and tin-kling drinks are the things which have the most appeal during warm days.

Have dinner, luncheon or supper served out of doors—in the woods, if possible or by the side of a stream or lake. If that is not convenient set a table on the lawn or porch and stay out in the open air as much as convenient.

A cool, back porch makes a fine breakfast room, and many of the vegetables may be prepared for the dinner out there, where one has fresh air and may listen to the birds and bees. Such tasks seem only play with the mind occupied with enjoying the out-of-doors.

Prepare sandwiches and salads and serve such foods often instead of hot meats, pastries and other heavy desserts.

When one has a few fresh fish (not enough to serve for a meal for the family) try a fish chowder.

Fresh Fish Chowder.
Fry five or six tablespoons of finely cubed salt pork in a kettle. When well browned add four to six sliced onions and six to eight potatoes cut into slices. Cover with boiling water and cook until the vegetables are half done, then add the hoked fish cut into small pieces and cook until all are tender. Season well with salt and pepper and add six to ten milk crackers to a quart of rich milk heated hot. Serve after the mix has been added to the chowder, and if not rich enough, add butter to season. Serve two crackers in each soup dish.

Very tender young cabbage, shredded very fine and mixed with a boiled dressing makes fine filling for sandwiches.

For another vegetable sandwich—slice firm crisp radishes very thin and lay them on the buttered bread with a bit of shredded onion.

Water cress sprinkled with salt is another fine filling for buttered bread.

Simple Boiled Dressing.
Mix together one-half cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of flour and one teaspoonful of mustard. Add one-half cupful of milk and one egg well beaten. Heat one-half cupful of vinegar (mild) in a saucepan and when hot add the other ingredients very slowly, stirring constantly. Add whipped cream when using. This will keep indefinitely.

Ownership
An Indianapolis family having a little boy five years old visited friends in a western city. In the course of conversation they discussed a very rich and powerful Mr. S., who owned the hotel at which the guests were staying, the apartment in which the friends lived, a bank and a department store. Although the little boy did not seem to pay much attention to their talk, the next day at the beach he asked: "Mother, is this Mr. S.—a beach?"

"No," mother replied.

"Who owns the beach?" was the next question.

"God owns the beach," was the reply.

"But mother, how did God get it away from Mr. S.?" was the final query.—Indianapolis News.

Range of Rifle

The point-blank range of a rifle means the point at which the bullet is located where it is at the same elevation as when it leaves the muzzle of the rifle after the rifle has been fired. The point-blank range of the Springfield rifle is at a distance of 350 yards from the muzzle.

A COLOR FOR EVERY ILL

YOU remember Coud who a few years ago gave us a new slogan with his "every day, in every way, I am getting better and better."

From the small beginnings of a cult of auto-suggestion and self-confidence, Coucism is branching out to cure everything—both physical and mental ills, and with simple colors.

Indeed we have definite news from Paris that prominent Coucists are about to launch upon the world their new theory of using colors to cure anything, including insanity.

For people with unbalanced minds, the best cure, according to a prominent Couc professor, is the simple method of having curtains tablecloth, bedclothes, in orange. And each room should have a bowl of oranges in the center. Upon waking in the morning the patient should first gaze upon the bowl for about ten minutes. The healing effect will be noticeable, we are told, in two weeks.

Rheumatism can be cured by concentrating for ten minutes, three times a day on a sheet of light blue paper. Hangings should also be of this color, for this purpose.

Dishonesty is eradicated in the same way; only the color must be light-white. Kleptomaniacs, according to our information from Paris, are easy subjects to cure in this same manner.

For inferiority complex, red is the color that will cure. The same is recommended to a man who has fears, such as "crossing streets, in speaking to his employers, or facing his wife."

That's all that has been given out so far. But there are so many colors, and so many ills and faults that need cure. I think I shall send to Paris to the Coucists a list of questions to cover some of the most pressing and immediate ills, the proper color to cure which would be gratefully received. It would go something like this:

When people don't like to work, what color please?

For friction in the home, what color shall one gaze on to bring peace?

For the extravagant wife—what shade will give her a true perspective?

For frivolous modern youth—what color will make them serious?

For boredom—what color shall we concentrate upon to become interested?

ALIMONY DEMANDED OF MORGAN OF "GOLDEN BOWL"

Application for temporary alimony and counsel fees pending trial of a divorce action brought by Hattie M. Morgan against James C. Morgan of properties was made at special term Saturday. Judge McNamee reserved decision and took the papers in the matter.

According to petitioner Morgan, who conducted as one of the partners the "Golden Bowl" restaurant and grill at Saugerties, on August 11 last attended a clam bake in the town of Ulster and thereafter came to Kingston and at a local theatre met a woman employee and took her to Saugerties. A private detective observed them leave the Morgan place at 5:30 in the morning and return to Kingston. Lillian D. Edwards, who appeared for plaintiff in the action, stated that he had asked for $750 counsel fees but he believed that was perhaps excessive and $250 or $350 would be a fair amount and as for alimony he thought the court should pay it at from $25 to $50 a week.

A denial of the charges were made by George F. Kaufman, who appeared for defendant. He stated that the income of defendant was not to exceed $2,200 a year and as to the facts of the case he said those alleged in the complaint were insufficient. There was an allegation by a private detective of having seen Morgan and some woman at Saugerties but this was not corroborated by any other person, as required by law. Morgan and another man had come to Kingston and taken a woman back to Saugerties. She was to meet relatives there later after the brother of the co-respondent had concluded his work in a local garage.

When he and his wife failed to appear at Saugerties as agreed upon Morgan and some of his employees brought the woman home after closing the restaurant. Mr. Kaufman said that the law required the statements of a private detective to be corroborated and this evidently had not been done. He said that he believed Mr. Morgan had an absolute divorce and objected to any order for counsel fees and temporary alimony. Judge McNamee took papers and reserved decision.

Manila, Sept. 8.—Communication lines slowly being repaired after the passing of the typhoon which swept the island of Luzon last week, today brought reports of mounting death lists and tales of great damage done by the storm.

More than 200 persons were reported killed. Thousands were homeless and property and great havoc had been wrought to crops.

Starting in the southern provinces a week ago, the typhoon moved northward, then turned and directed on the northern provinces, bringing rains and crops.

Army planes were circling over the devastated regions surveying the destruction. Aid was being sent from various sources.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

A dark and rainy week-end at the major league front saw the tagged champions in the respective leagues march somewhat gingerly to the turnstiles which will produce the big series, but not so much as yesterday might have marked with a little luck. This advance and base hit assault upon Detroit pushed the forty-first and forty-second home runs held the attention of such customers as appeared before the turnstiles.

No fault could be found with the attendance at Chicago, where the Cubs took two from the Braves on Saturday by 13 to 6 and 9 to 2 only to see the Bostonese grab a Sunday slugfest by 13 to 11, but larger crowds have been known at Shibe Park than the one which saw the Marks divide two with Cleveland on Saturday.

The week-end was a total loss for the Reds and the Giants at Cincinnati, where three scheduled games were washed away, necessitating a double header today and a single engagement on Tuesday, which had been an open date.

The week-end campaign left the Cubs in need of eight victories and the Athletics in need of nine to clinch their respective flags. Every defeat, of course, lessens by one the number of victories required by the Athletics or the Cubs. At the present clip, both should gain the mathematical certainty early in the week beginning next Sunday, and the Cubs may be able to do it sooner.

Rogers Hornsby entertained the big crowds at Wrigley Field with a home run on each afternoon, bringing his total for the season to thirty-five—one behind Wilson and Ott and two behind Klein, the league leader.

After bowing in Pittsburgh on Saturday by 6 to 2 the Robins on the Sabbath brought the Pirates back to Ebbets Field, where Dazzy Vance outpointed Ray French by 2 to 1 in a moist game attended by a handful of fans. The Phillies nipped the Cardinals by 4 to 1 on Saturday and gained an even break yesterday, the game scheduled for today being advanced as fan-bait. The Phils took the opener by 8 to 6, but bowed by 4 to 2 in the six-inning nightcap, which saw Chick Hefey hit a very useful home run. The second game was charged to Harry Smythe, his second defeat.

Frank O'Doul, the reformed pitcher, sampled St. Louis pitching for seven hits in 11 times at bat over the week-end, lifting his average five points to .398, six points more than his rival, Babe Herman, could boast this morning. Herman got three out of nine and lost a point.

The A's won the first game handily on Saturday by 5 to 1 behind the fine pitching of Bob Grove, who scored his twentieth victory, but Willis Hudlin outpointed Ruba Walberg by 4 to 0 in the nightcap. The series was halted yesterday to celebrate a Philadelphia Sabbath.

Detroit shaded the Yanks by 5 to 4 in the opener on Saturday, but the big guns of the dying champions boomed out an 11 to 7 decision in the second encounter. Nine bases on balls by Vic Sorrell in four rounds and three more by Emil Yie in the last round of Sunday's game for the Sox, 9 to 7. In addition to the Sox, the game was marked by Lou Gehrig's thirtieth and Bill Dickey's tenth.

The Red Sox rallied in the ninth to Saturday to score out the Braves by 4 to 3 and won the first game recently to reach the same series and by an identical score. The second game was called at the end of the sixth with the score 4 to 6. The Sunday law in Boston forces a halt at 6 o'clock. Another bargain is on in the freeway today.

Washington shaded Chicago by 2 to 1 on Saturday, but the White Sox obtained revenge yesterday by 4 to 3.

Advice Means Nothing to Baseball's Star Hitter

Floyd Herman of the Brooklyn Robins, one of baseball's naturals, is around the top of the hitters. In a recent game he drove a homer on a line over the left field fence.

"Heard work," said Herman, gully, as he rumped around the plate. "You know, Max Carey told me the short right field fence was made for me, and he showed me how to step back to hit to right. So up came the pitch, and I unwound myself, and took my step and wow, away she went over into the street outside left field."

"Do your own hitting after this," said Carey. "You're the kind of a hitter that aims for the fence in right field and hits it over the left field wall. But when you took your step-back I grabbed the water bucket for fear you'd fall into it."

Griffiths Tests Latest German Menace

By JAY VESSELS

(Associated Press Feature Service.)
New York (P).—A doctor of philosophy will meet a professor of pugilism in Madison Square Garden September 12.

That doesn't necessarily mean that something important is about to happen. The only significance attached to the meeting is in a pugilistic way.

The doctor is Ludwig Haymann, erstwhile star student at a German university, who has replaced Max Schmelling as the current Teuton menace in America.

The professor of pugilism is Tuffy Griffiths, who, as his front name indicates, professes to specialize in nothing but fighting.

Tuffy and Ludwig are scheduled to battle 10 rounds in a test to decide which shall have the first shot at the choice fall and winter dates offered by the Garden.

Tuffy will be making his second New York appearance. He tried so hard last winter to make good on his first appearance that he stumbled into a two-round knockout at the hands of Jimmy Braddock. Griffiths has been charging ahead, and he probably will challenge the winner of the Sharkey-Loughran bout September 26 if he wins this fight.

Haymann has been in America but three months and has had time to polish off only two setups. A quick victory over Griffiths would enable Ludwig to issue himself a visiting card with ample allowances for income.

Tuffy Griffiths openly admits that fighting alone is his business. Dr. Ludwig Haymann, Griffiths' opponent September 12, leans on the "book learnin'" idea for support, at least in a pugilistic way.

Broadway has stamped its OK on the bout, and the Garden probably will open its indoor season with a sell-out.

Zinna-Matinsky May Meet Again

Nick Zinna of this city and Harry Matinsky of New York, who fought two draws here this summer, likely will meet in the "rubber" or deciding battle Friday night when Bill Singer, local boxing promoter, runs his weekly show at the Kingston Fair Grounds.

The two pugilists gave local fans action galore in their two ring battles here. Neither could prove his supremacy so Friday's tilt should be a real hot ring argument. Matinsky would rather beat Zinna than any man with whom he could be matched and if the bout is agreed upon will be in the "pink" of condition to face the local boy.

Zinna believes that his two experiences with Matinsky has shown him all that the New Yorker knows, so he will set his cap to take the decision Friday night. He is in good condition after having spent two weeks with the National Guard at Pine Camp, his handlers have given their consent to the match and all that remains is the obtaining of the okay from Matinsky. It is believed that Harry's manager will be only too willing to give him another crack at Zinna.

Bill Singer has not definitely arranged any other bouts for Friday night. He has announced that the program will be a 36-round affair, comprising all six-round tilts. Boys likely to appear in the battles are Joe Voadick, Humberto Curi, Frank Goosby, Ruby Greenburg and Joe Werner.

Swarthmore college is to raise a $200,000 endowment fund so its teams will not be dependent upon gate receipts.

Tom Heeney wants another chance at Otto Von Porat, Otto all but ruined Tom in their first meeting in Chicago last winter.

Promoters of bull fights in San Sebastian, Spain, tired of the sameness of the sport, have now placed the torador on a motorcycle.

Major Pilots Flunk; Minors May Help Out

Success of the above minor league managers brings them consideration as big league material. Zwilling is at Kansas City and Berghammer at Milwaukee, both of the American Association, and Atz had many winners at Fort Worth in the Texas League.

By JAY VESSELS

(Associated Press Feature Service.)
New York (P).—The threatened widespread shakeup in big league managerial ranks may find some more of these minor league pilots in line for a big time job.

One or two of them already have talked business with major loop magnates eager to try out fresh material.

Jackie Atz has been approached by the White Sox and Marty Berghammer has been felt out by the Browns.

Dutch Zwilling whose Kansas City team have put the field far behind them in the American Association, stands out as a good prospect, either as manager or as coach.

Atz did wonders with his Fort Worth team that copped pennant after pennant in the Texas League.

Berghammer took an ordinary outfit at Tulsa, in the Western League, and ran away from the field, a showing that brought him a promotion from the Tulsa farm of the Browns to the Milwaukee club in which Phil Ball is interested.

Zwilling's Kansas City nine has been keeping about ten games ahead of the other American Association clubs since early in the season.

The success of Joe McCarthy, who stepped up from a minor league post to show some of the big shots of the majors just how a second division club could be made into a consistent contender, has brought added prestige to the leading pilots outside of the select circle.

With the Browns, Cardinals, White Sox, Cincinnati Robins and Pirates apparently in the field for new leaders in 1930 it appears likely that the brand of leadership that has brought results in the smaller circuits may get a tryout in Commissioner Land's domain next season.

MIDWAY: AWAITS SIGNAL TO BIG FOR LEGENDARY GOLD

One Million in Nuggets Said to Lie Under Shadow of Rock in Idaho.

Silver City, Idaho.—One million dollars in gold nuggets lie under the shadow of a serpentine rock in southern Idaho, it is said, a seventeen-year-old Minnecan Indian of Wisconsin, is to be believed.

Some day soon the young Indian, at the stroke of noon, will stand under a rock prominently resembling a serpent's head. At the moment the sun reaches the zenith, the shadow of the tip of the serpent's head will fall on a certain spot in a volcanic crater.

When that shadow falls Dave Cora will dig for the fabled treasure.

Here is the story, as it has reached this town from Minnecan, Minn., home of the Indian youth.

Eighty years ago two Englishmen, Ferdinand Kingston and Elmer Jacques Brown, according to legend, trapped in the Snake River country, making their home with the Crow Indians.

The two partners "struck it rich." Carefully they guarded their secret, but despite their efforts their luck became known.

Then came a day when they were ambushed by outlaws who had heard of their luck. Brown was killed; Kingston was tortured, rescued by his friends the Crows, and later died. But before death came he gave to the Crows a packet, asking it be delivered to his brother in Wisconsin.

The packet passed from hand to hand until it finally was given to young Cora's mother. She had it in her Bible.

Two years ago the mother died without revealing the hiding place. Recently the Cora cabin burned. Among the articles saved from the flames was a Bible. In the Bible was an old map said to show the location of the treasure, to instruct him who would find the gold to stand under the rocky promontory and to note carefully where the shadow of the "serpent's head" falls . . . and then to dig.

Buffalo Now Thrives in Alaska and Canada

Nenana, Alaska.—Numerous calves are reported seen with the herd of 20 buffalo planted last summer northeast of Fairbanks. All members of the herd appear to be doing well in their new habitat. The future of buffalo in the spacious game country here seems assured.

Ten or fifteen years ago, the Northwest took it for granted that the buffalo had gone forever. To commemorate the woolly-headed animal, the government made a picture of one and put it on a nickel. But the buffalo has come back. Another buffalo herd has been started just west of here, in Canadian territory, where several scores from the Wainwright Canadian National park have been established. In future years this group may unite with those in Alaska to form semi-annual migrations to and from pasturage as do the caribou today.

Buffalo in Northwest Canada number in the thousands, so numerous are they that, last fall, many were slaughtered for meat and the pelts made into robes. In the Western United States one herd has reached its hundreds at Yakima, Wash. The national bison range, in Montana, claims a thousand. Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas also maintain buffalo preserves.

Buffalo never invaded Alaska's extensive grass lands in the last century because, it is believed, they could not migrate so far north from the plains to reach the Canadian mountain passes when they are free from snow and ice. Alaska's miniature buffalo herd is established where suitable forage is abundant the year round and where climatic conditions are ideal for the heavy, thick-coated animals.

Their hides—the famous buffalo robes—eventually will prove a valuable contribution to Alaska's fur trade.

Drives With Car Afire, Firemen Rush to Rescue

Pottsville, Pa.—St. Clair firemen probably saved the life of Harry Moehler, thirty-four years old, of Tanagua, when they saw his automobile afire and chased it several blocks.

Moehler, who was driving, was unaware of the fire and failed to hear warnings from bystanders and the firemen as the auto passed the firehouse.

The firemen overtook him at a signal light and Moehler leaped just as the front part of the car burst into flames.

Women Plumbers Had God Jobs in Rome

Buffalo, N. Y.—More than 2,000 years ago, in the reign of Roman emperors, women plumbers played a dominant role in business life. This fact was disclosed by W. G. Archer, of the national research bureau, who said that recent excavations in the ruins of Emperor Hadrian's palace revealed a number of lengths of lead pipe bearing the signature of women plumbers.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 9 (P.).—J. G. Campbell, Charlotte news reader, one of the jurors in the trial of 15 Gastonia textile strikers and strike leaders charged with the murder of O. F. Aderholt, became violently insane this morning, Sheriff R. Irwin announced shortly before the third week of the trial was to start. Campbell was placed in a padded cell in the county jail.

Campbell appeared normal up to the time Deputy Sheriff Avery B. Johnston started to take the jury from a local hotel to the courtroom.

As the jurors passed the city hall en route to the courtroom Campbell suddenly became violent.

Jailer McGinnis a half hour after Campbell had been locked up said the man was raving on the subject of religion.

Evelyn DeLaTour At Woodstock

Woodstock, Sept. 9.—Evelyn Proctor (Evelyn De La Tour) played Ruth King, the romantic heroine of Show Folks hours the other week over WABC. She frequently embodies the leads in this feature, personifying the damsels of show life, those glittering, emotional, glamorous maidens who inhabit that magic world, the theatre.

Radio fans may be interested to know that the voice of the heroine to whom they listen in "Show Folks" has been heard (in person) on the Riviera, in Monte Carlo, in Paris, and that Miss Proctor has a letter from Mr. Moore, the American ambassador at Madrid, thanking her for her performance, in the name of the Queen of Spain. Miss Proctor will be heard again Tuesday in the Show Folks hour, WABC, at 6 p. m.

Incidentally dwellers in this vicinity will have the opportunity of seeing her in person at the Woodstock Playhouse Saturday and Sunday evenings, September 21 and 22, with "The Proctors Revue", a newly formed company consisting exclusively of vaudeville headliners.

Getting away from the footlights, Evelyn also stars in the world of sport. She is a crack tennis player and possesses the Army of Occupation Girls' Championship medal won by her at Coblenz in the tennis tournament held there.

Franklin Conquers Pike's Peak!

Proves Power, Speed and Stamina of Air-Cooling in Labor Day Classic

Like a zooming airplane, the Franklin Special piloted by Cannon Ball Baker, flashed the 12.4 miles up Pike's Peak in 19 minutes, 12 4/5 seconds. In this dramatic exhibition, Franklin, the only air-cooled car of the twelve powerful entrants, won its place "in the money" and sped across the finish line within 50 seconds of the winner.

In this steady, steep climb are the most grueling and fastest changing conditions that a motor car could encounter. From 9,150 feet to 14,109 feet, a difference of approximately a mile in altitude—203 dangerous hairpin curves and switchbacks, many bending back as much as 146 degrees—temperature changing from 85 degrees to nearly freezing—hill after hill of 10.5% grade. Such were the conditions which changed as rapidly as those encountered by airplanes. The Franklin with the same type engine that powers 80% of all airplanes, overcame all obstacles and reached the top as fresh and as lively as at the beginning.

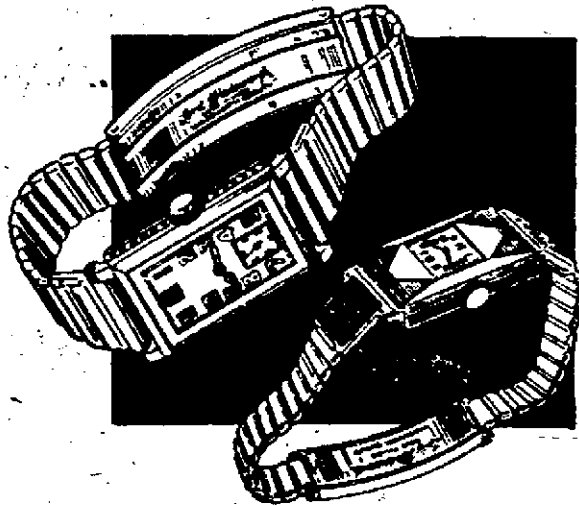

This Franklin Special incorporated the same principles, the same six-cylinders and cubic capacity as are employed in the stock Franklin—an amazing performer, which holds all major road records, including the Coast-to-Coast round trip, the New York-to-Chicago, the New York-to-Miami, the Desert Derby, etc.

To know everything which air-cooling affords in masterful, reliable, confident, all-weather, all-road performance drive the Franklin. In traffic, on the open road, for all-day comfort, for easy, confident control, Franklin is incomparable. Let us place a car at your disposal for an evening or a day.
